The image shows the exterior of the Wolverson Library building at Camden County College. The building is a modern structure with a large glass facade on the left side and a brick facade on the right. The words "WOLVERTON LIBRARY" are visible on the brick wall. The sky is overcast, and the overall scene is dimly lit, suggesting dusk or dawn. The text "Elevating Student Success: Harnessing Free Technology for Library Information Literacy Programs" is overlaid in white on the image.
