WHO ARE WE?

The NJAL Medical Librarians Special Interest Group (SIG) was formed in January 2025 to support librarians engaged in health sciences education and research.

THE NJAL MEDICAL LIBRARIANS' SIG:

❖ Provides a collaborative space for New Jersey academic librarians who support nursing and health sciences programs.

❖ Fosters discussion and resource sharing on topics central to health sciences liaison work, including:

- ➢ Health sciences databases and tools
- ➢ Instructional strategies for allied health, medical, and nursing students
- ➢ Support for systematic reviews and clinical decision making
- ➢ The evolving role of artificial intelligence in healthcare
- ➢ Challenges with outreach and relationship building
- ➢ Other emerging trends in health sciences and medical librarianship
