

The Electronic Resources Committee

The NJLA Electronic Resources Committee meets monthly on Zoom to discuss current issues in e-resources management.

Members often bring questions or challenges from their institutions to discuss and learn from other members' experiences. These conversations promote continuous learning.

Perennial topics include:

- usage statistics best practices
- evolving landscape of open access models
- authentication and access
- current and potential VALE agreements

Regular discussion fosters creative problem-solving and flexibility. We learn about issues that are common across institutions and issues that are unique to certain situations.

Some recent conversations:

- AI-related clauses in licenses
- how to survey patrons about format (ebook vs. print) preferences
- Jersey Clicks offerings
